

Prophetic Word to the Cult of the Lighthouse Inc., Church; Through Rev. Kenneth Duphilly

You know God the Father would say, “Who's your king? Ask yourself, who's your king?”

“Who's your king? Where's your struggle? Is the struggle in your heart? Is it in your mind? Is it in your church? Is it in your job? Is it in your home? Is it in your family? Where's the struggle?”, says the Lord.

He said, “In this house there's been many interruptions.” He said, “But at this hour, He's shaking the walls”.

And He said, “The truth, nothing but the truth, the whole truth”. He said, “So help Me, I am God will prevail and come forth in this final hour”.

He said, My children, I call this My final hour, My greatest moment. Who's your king? Who are you listening to? There's only one truth.”

But yet we'll seek the truth in so many forms and manifestations. We look for the light... We look for so many lights... but My Word says, “I am the light, the light of the world”.

But yet we look for light and happiness and success and our personal completeness. He said, “But now, now I'm the light. I am your God and no one should come before Me. That's where confusion comes in... that's where heartbreak comes in... splits, betrayals, back-bitings, gnashing of teeth”.

He says, “But My Word”. He said, “If you know My Word, My Word speaks loud and it speaks clear. If you return unto Me, I'll return unto you. You'll be My people and I'll be your God”.

The Word today is the walls are shaking and they're trembling, and there's about to come an explosion of truth in this house that's going to devastate and shake the very core, the very realm of each and every one that's ever been through those doors. “Are you ready?” After that truth, will you be able to stand? And who will be your God? Who will be your king? “Will you be able to stand?” Rise up this moment, knowing this, that the storm is all around. But if you return to Me, no debris will touch thee. You will walk through the storm as a sunny day. The noise and the debris that's screaming throughout all your land will never hurt you or harm you. “Because I'm God, Return to Me, and I'll return to you”, says the Lord.
